This is the Outerlimits that set the world speed record in 2008 at a blistering 173 miles per hour, and owner describes as "the only v-bottom that you could close your eyes and feel like you're running a catamaran." Dialed back from the record setting engines, the boat is equipped with 1200hp Eickert engines, coupled to dry sump #6 speedmaster drives through dry sump Bam 1550 transmissions spinning Hering 5-blade stainless propellers. But with the all carbon construction, she weighs in at 8000 pounds giving the boat an amazing power to weight ratio, and the added length to handle the rougher conditions of the great lakes, LOTO, or offshore. New flat touch screen GPS plotter, rear view camera/video, 1000w sound system, Alcantara and carbon interior, dual helms, 3 new bilge pumps, Livorsi gauges and a completely gone through Myco tandem dual
